Employment within academia:

April 2009 – July 2010 Southwark College, London, United Kingdom
I was employed on contract and promoted to permanent member of staff in the School of English and the Humanities as an English lecturer to adult learners in the Preparation for Learning and Access to Learning programmes. I also lectured in the Communication and Culture A2 programme. I prepared and delivered lectures, maintained registers, provided pastoral care, liaised with staff and attended meetings. I prepared portfolios for assessment by external verifiers. The learners spanned a range of ages with numerous first languages in addition to English, for which my fluency in French was an asset. I loved this role and only left after internal restructuring to complete my doctoral thesis.

February 2002 – May 2007 Varsity College Cape Town, South Africa
Course Development
May – June 2004 English Skills at Varsity College
I developed an English grammar course for intermediate to advanced level English usage for Varsity College. I wrote the learners' manual, the facilitators' manual and the foil to the manual exercises.
Module Leader
I developed the Course Pack and Facilitator's Manual based on UNISA material and Varsity College's timetable for undergraduate courses in English, and I set the internal exams for Varsity College. I liaised with facilitators across the country and provided information and support if necessary. I facilitated weekly seminars for candidates at all levels of UNISA's Bachelor of Arts Degree, and I marked the internal exams. The courses I led follow:

2007, 2006	Testing the limits of the literary sign	UNISA ENN315
2007, 2006	Exploring Shakespeare	UNISA ENN207
2007, 6, 5	English for Law Studies	UNISA ENN106
2007, 6, 5. 4, 3	Close Reading, Good Writing	UNISA ENN205-L

2006, 2005 English for Academic Purposes UNISA ENN103
2005, 2004 The Persistent Phoenix: Medieval Worlds Revisited UNISA ENN306-P
2003, 2002 African Journeys UNISA ENN305-P

Facilitation

I lectured a variety of learners in classes ranging in size from eleven to thirty-five learners.

2004, 3, 2 Business Communication Certificate in Management Principles
2004, 3, 2 Principles of Business Communication International Marketing and Management 2003
Communication Science 1 Varsity College Sport Science

February 2000 – December 2002 University of Cape Town Cape Town

- Department of English Language and Literature
  I tutored for three first year English courses, Introduction to English Literary Studies and Language, Law and Media (2000, 2001) and Film and Visual Media (2002). I gave one lecture for Language Law and Media in 2000. I helped invigilate exams each semester, and I marked exam scripts for each course.
- African Gender Institute
  I tutored for the second year course Understanding Gender in the first semester of 2001 and 2002. I gave one lecture to the full class both years, and I was chief invigilator of the exam in June 2001.
- UCT Summer School
  I was employed as a lecturer in the November-December term of 2000 and 2001 in the Summer School first year English course Introduction to Literary Studies. I developed the course pack, sought permissions for material; prepared classes; lectured; kept a register; set and marked essays and exams, and consulted with individual students. I invigilated the exam in 2000, and I marked exam papers in 2000 and 2001.

Employment outside of academia:

Jan 2014 to present: admataz.com I am involved in writing blogs, creating data visualisations and graphic communication strategy for my husband's web development company.

April – July 2014 Pearson Press, Cape Town
I was commissioned and paid to write two chapters for a university level education textbook aimed at supporting teachers in the classroom. In the end, only one chapter was included. The reviewers commended my included chapter.

September – October 2011 Zed Books, London
I worked as an editorial intern at this leading academic publisher in the commissioning Editorial Department, and I learned the publishing process. I took on administrative work, communicating with authors, endorsers and reviewers, as well as preparing publishing proposals for full company meetings. I learned the company database. I took on research tasks and helped draw up contracts for differently authored texts. I read proposals and manuscripts to comment on their readiness for publication, and at times corrected spelling and grammatical faults. I prepared texts for production, creating prelims and manuscripts and completing handover documents. I attended launches and helped with setting up and packing up, and hosting receptions. I worked with authors in signing texts. My excellent communication skills were most useful in this role.

2004 – 2007 admataz.com, Cape Town
I worked with my partner's interactive design company, focusing particularly on copywriting for SEO, editing, research and proposal writing. We created an educational interactive multimedia exhibition for the Robben Island Museum in Cape Town.

December 1998 - November 1999
I worked as a multilingual secretary and personal assistant whilst I applied for and began my Masters Degree.

- Seatro Marketing (Pty) LTD, Bree Street, Cape Town
- Cape Metropolitan Council, Wale Street, Cape Town.

June 1996 - June 1998
I was in the United Kingdom on a working holiday visa. I worked as a receptionist and a secretary.

- Ardley Phillips Horrell White Ltd, Holborn, London
- John Grooms Housing Association, Old Street, London
- W & G Foyles Ltd, Charing Cross Road, London

Other Skills and Interests:

Computer Literacy:
I am able to work on both PC and Mac computers, and in OpenOffice and MS Office. My typing speed is 80 wpm. I am able to do a little bit of HTML coding. I can insert a hyperlink.

Travelling:
I am interested in travelling and experiencing other cultures. To date I have travelled in Spain, America, Denmark, England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Holland, the Czech Republic and Moçambique. I keep up to date with current affairs.

At University:

- Journalism: I was a reporter for Varsity, the official student newspaper at UCT.
- The Women's Movement: I was the Political Officer on the Executive Committee during 1992 - 1994.
